JACKSON, MO., DEC. 26, 1901.

This paper is on file at the office of The Chicago Inter-Ocean, 100-108-110 East Monroe street, Chicago, where our readers will be courteously greeted who may care to call upon The Inter Ocean for a tour of inspection and sight-seeing through its magnificent building, in which can be found every mechanical and scientific improvement of the age in connection with the needs of a great newspaper. It is a rare treat to any one interested in the subject and should be taken advantage of.

The battle-cry of every republican should be, "Let's carry Missouri in 1902."

We are reliably informed that P. A. Kage will be a candidate for sheriff before the next republican convention.

"No admission" is all right, Mr. Progress. "No admittance" would have been wrong. But we want the people in, but don't want them to pay. See!

We are in receipt of a program of the ninth winter session of the Missouri Press association, to be held at the Laclede hotel, St. Louis, on Thursday and Friday, February 6 and 7. It is a neat program and contains some practical subjects for discussion.

Attention, Tax-payers.

The undersigned collector of the revenue of Cape Girardeau county, Missouri, will meet the tax-payers of said county for the purpose of receiving the taxes for the year 1901, at the following times and places:

From December 3, 1901, to January 1, 1902, at my office in Jackson.

Notice is hereby given that all those who fail to pay at the times and places as above may expect to have their property seized, levied upon and sold for the payment of the same with costs. Back Tax Books will not be taken with me; those desiring to pay the same will find the books at my office in Jackson.

E. W. FLENTGE,
Collector of Cape Girardeau County.

Ardmore, Indian Territory.

Wm. Byrd and wife returned last week from a visit to his brother Ed. at Ardmore, Indian territory.

In conversation with Mr. Byrd concerning his trip we are able to give our readers the following bit of news concerning that Indian country:

Ardmore is only fourteen years old and has 10,000 inhabitants. The streets of the city are 100 feet wide, and they are so thronged with business that sometimes a person has to wait for hours till the blockade of cotton wagons break. One newspaper office of that city prints 3,500 copies daily. One lumber establishment covers one-half a block with its building. In the suburbs of the city two or more thousand head of cattle are grazed.

Mr. Byrd says there are acres and acres of land covered with rocks seemingly standing on end. At one place in these rocks there is an oil spring. The inhabitants skim off the oil like we do cream, and use it for greasing purposes. He said he saw what they call Jacob's ladder. This is a natural ascending steps of rocks with natural railing on the sides, going up the side of the mountain for about 300 feet. This country of course belongs to the Indians, and if you buy land there you can not get a good title, neither can the resources of the country be developed an account of the Indian ownership. One old Indian has a gold mine and whenever he wants anything he goes to the mine, cuts off a good chunk of gold, goes to the city and sells it for $25 or $30, and returns home. He will talk to no one about his mine, not even his wife knows where it is. Mr. Byrd states that he did not see a full-blooded Indian while there. They are scattered over the country a good distance from the city. He says people come to Ardmore from a distance of forty miles to trade. Dry goods and other articles can be bought cheaper there than in Jackson, but lumber is from $2 to $3 per hundred.

Additional Local.

Christmas passed off very quietly in Jackson. Our peace was disturbed a little by a melodious tone, the resonance of which was in the lower part of the throat of one of those generous, ill-fated beings called a tramp. Marshal Macke took care of him.

Died, at his home near Burfordville, on December 18, of pneumonia, Louis Davis, aged 22 years. He was the son of James P. and Angelene Davis. He leaves a father and five sisters, besides other relatives and friends to mourn his loss. He was laid to rest in Lester graveyard near Bee, on Thursday, December 19.

Card of Thanks.

I hereby desire to thank the Cape County Milling company for their kindness in presenting me with a valuable Christmas present on December 24.

GEO. PEDIGO.

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST.

Not how cheap, but how good, is the question.

The Twice-a-Week-Republic is not as cheap as some so-called newspapers. But it is as cheap as it is possible to sell a first-class newspaper. It prints all the news that is worth printing. If you read it all the year round, you are posted on all the important and interesting affairs of the world. It is the best and most reliable newspaper that money and brains can produce—and those should be the distinguishing traits of the newspaper that is designed to be read by all members of the family.

Subscription price, $1 a year. Any newsdealer, newspaper or postmaster will receive your subscription, or you may mail it direct to THE REPUBLIC, St. Louis, Mo.
